

CDD 595.44 WOL

BL 606

Wolfgang Nentwig · Jutta Ansorg ·
Angelo Bolzern · Holger Frick ·
Anne-Sarah Ganske · Ambros Hänggi ·
Christian Kropf · Anna Stäubli

All You Need to Know About Spiders

069589

①

 Springer

Contents

Part I Facts on Structure and Function

1	Getting to Know You: A First Look at Spiders	3
2	How Do Spiders See?	15
3	How Do Spiders Hear, Smell, Taste and Feel?	23
4	Muscles and Hydraulics: How Spiders Move	37
5	How Can Spiders Grow Despite an Exoskeleton?	45
6	Poison Without Sting: The Weapon of Spiders	55
7	Silk for Many Purposes: The High-Tech Material of Spiders	69
8	Just Sit and Wait? Far from It! Catching Techniques of Spiders	85
9	How Spiders Eat: Feeding Through the Straw	101
10	Pretty Special: Sex with Spiders	109

Part II We are Living in a World of Spiders

11	Some like It Cold: How Spiders Survive Adverse Seasons	121
12	Camouflage and Deception: How Do Spiders Defend Themselves Against Enemies?	127
13	Useful or Irritating? The Importance of Spiders in Our Environment	141
14	Lots of Them and Everywhere: Species Richness of Spiders	149
15	Globalization, or the Worldwide Dispersal of Spider Species	157
16	My Home is My Castle: Common Spiders in and Around the House	167
17	Who's Who in the Neighbourhood: Common Spiders in the Garden and Its Surroundings	187

Part III Our Emotional Attitude Towards Spiders

18 Big Fear of Small Animals: Where Our Fear of Spiders Comes from	205
19 Concerning a Tense Relationship: Of Humans and Spiders	215
20 Spiders as Pets?	223
Appendix	229
References	231
Index	235